Tradition

Over 100 years of continuity and change

forward-looking planning and development

Pneumatik Berlin is now in a position to draw upon over 100 years of experience in production engineering and the range of products offered during this period has always been adjusted to the market requirements.

Motivated and specially trained employees, forward-looking planning and development as well as the meeting of future-oriented market and customer requirements have been the guarantee of success for the company from the very beginning.

We started 20 years ago to make our name in the field of medical engineering and to continuously develop capacity in this direction.

Quality

A certified management system for Quality Assurance.

Each product which leaves the company undergoes an intensive, documented individual checking procedure. The stable level of quality is coupled with high demands on functionality, compatibility, reliability and design.

high demands on functionality, compatibility, reliability and design

Pneumatik Berlin maintains a Quality Management system which has been certified by TÜV-Management Service according to DIN EN ISO 9001 and DIN EN 46001. This guarantees that the product will meet the requirements according to the medical device directive 93/42/EEC from the development stage right through to final inspection.

The TÜV mark with individual comments about the quality level of our products and company brings the customer and the user a sense of trust, security and quality.

Competence

Specialists in the field of Medical Engineering

convincing solutions, products and services

Convincing solutions, products and services which meet the highest demands required by modern medical practices determine the way in which our employees operate.

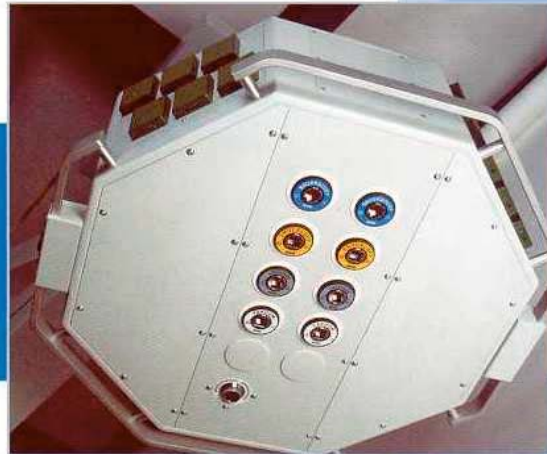

Our product groups:

- Central medical gas supply systems
- Medical ceiling-mounted supply units
- Wall-mounted supply units
- Horizontal media supply systems
- A broad range of medical accessories

Individuality

Creative solutions for our customers

The standard solutions which we offer are characterized by guaranteed functionality, simplicity of operation and low maintenance requirements. We also achieve a high degree of customer satisfaction through the realisation of tailor-made solutions.

realisation of tailor-made solutions

Dialogue with our partners allows us to integrate their wishes into the development, planning and production of specific products.

This is made possible, on the one hand, by the modular construction of a large part of the products and, on the other hand, through the fullest possible integration of individual design modifications according to the special requests of our customers. We devote ourselves to the direct implementation of the requirements in practice, as soon as these become known, into the current product range and into future-oriented system solutions.

Service

All types of services associated with the product

We understand service to be the provision of services in its totality, which means giving the customer comprehensive advice all along the way, from the time of initial contact, as well as experienced specialist care for the products installed at the customer's premises.

The services which we offer allow us to guarantee the highest possible technical reliability of operation of the delivered products according to clinical requirements.

There are qualified specialists at our premises as well as trained external specialists available for each individual case. We can also offer additional training for distributors, technicians and operating personnel on request; support material for this training is also provided.
